The Evil Men Do

Inside the Mind of the Sexual Predator

Evil raises the stakes. We're horrified, frightened, fascinated. Why do we stare at the scene of an accident? Why do we read the news when a girl is found dismembered in a trunk? Why do we read violent fiction? What evil are criminals capable of? What evil are writers capable of imagining?

These panelists get up in the morning, go to work at a computer and get inside the mind of a sexual predator. Join them as they explore the violent world they work in. Listen to how they live in this world. How they leave it behind at the end of the day. And why.
